Rescue Squad Tops Goal !

Richard Bartelt has the green bulb ready to GLOW as Mrs. Nettie Paulette, finance chairman, takes away the Yellow light, top side of the ladder at Appo Hardware, Main St. What does it all mean? It means that the Appomattox County Rescue Squad has reached the $10,000 goal . . . and more - $11,700 by press time-in the annual October drive for funds. Goal reaching for Squadmen and women means good maintenance for the Squad's three vehicles, gasoline for "rush hour" rescue calls, and a little extra to insure the type of service the Squad is noted for in Appomattox. To each donor and for each donation . . . THANKS from YOUR ACTION SQUAD!!

ACHS Girls Are District Champs

Appomattox County High School Volleyball players are District Champions with an 18-16 win followed by a 15-10 win over Rustburg in finals held Monday afternoon at Brookville.

Appomattox, undefeated throughout the season, went into the opening round of the four-team tournament playoff on Sat., Oct. 23, at Brookville as leading team in the district.

Appomattox with an 8-0 record was top seeded; Rustburg was second at 6-5, Gretna, 3rd at 3-5 and Brookville, 4th with a 2-6 record.

Appomattox defeated Brookville in the first match with the No. 1 team matched against No. 4 and 2nd and 3rd place holders matching Rustburg and Gretna.

The Appomattox girls won the first two games 15-7 and 15-10.

Rustburg, in second place as the tourney opened, defeated Gretna, but it took a three-game session to clinch the win. Gretna won the first game 15-8. Then Rustburg came back with a 15-7 win followed by another decisive 15-3 win to secure a berth in the Monday finals.

A week - end rest seemed hardly necessary for the local champions who on Monday afternoon won the first two games of a possible three-game final and were declared District Champions.

Mrs. Louise Martin, team coach for the Appomattox team, said that a big note of appreciation is due principal L. A. Benson and his staff for permitting the girls to use the Intermediate School gym for practice sessions. Also, that thanks are due to Miss King, phys. ed instructor for her assistance at practice sessions and at the games.

'Eye Bank' Is Topic For Ladies Night

Lion Sam Hudson, past state chairman of Sight Conservation and the Blind, will speak on the "Eye Bank" as a part of the Appomattox Lions Club's Ladies Night planned for Thursday, October 28 at the Appomattox County High School cafeteria. The dinner hour is set for 6:45 p.m.

During November and December, regular meetings of the Lions club will be held on the 1st and 3rd Thursdays in order to avoid conflict with Thanksgiving and Christmas holidays.

The local club has sent a check for $68.00 to the Va. Lions Care Fund.

Fruit Cake For Sale

"Our shipment of fruit cakes is here!" says Lions Club Fund-Raising chairman, V. O. Mims. Lions have MORE pounds of fruit cake to sell this year than ever before. They invite everyone to order a fruit cake, and incidently, why not serve some fruit cake right away? Tastes so good - for dessert or in - between.

New Date Set For Historial Meet

Due to several conflicting meeting days, a new date has been set for those interested in forming an Appomattox County Historical Society. The new date is Monday, Nov. 1, at 7:30 p.m., at The County Library. All those caring to participate in such a project are invited to attend. Virtually every Virginia locality has such an organization and it is felt by those supporting the local project that Appomattox should take advantage of its historical prestige. Preliminary plans would call for meetings of not over four times a year and programs devoted to preserving local history.

State Seeking New Troopers

RICHMOND, VA. - Noting that trooper vacancies exist within the Department of State Police, Captain C. L. Wilson, who heads the Department's Third Division with Headquarters at Appomattox, invited any young men from age 21 through 29 to consider a State Police career.

In addition to the age requirement, Captain Wilson said there are height and weight restrictions, a man must have a high school diploma or have a General Education Development Certificate, must be in good physical condition and of excellent character, and must complete certain aptitude tests.

Immediately upon employment as a conditionally appointed trooper, the full starting salary of $7,344 is paid and this can be increased by steps to $9,600 with 5 1/2 years of satisfactory service. Captain Wilson added that all uniforms and equipment are supplied and there are many other benefits such as reduced life insurance rates and retirement.

With no waiting period, an accepted applicant undergoes a minimum of 30 days field training during which he is assigned to an experienced trooper. The duration of this depends upon the dates of the two annual Basic Training Schools. During 21 weeks of basic training, there is no charge for food or lodging and the full salary applies.

Captain Wilson stated that any young man who is interested and feels he is qualified should seek further information from any State Police office or installation.

Three Ballots For Voters Tuesday

Two-Time Winners!

Back of the Week is Lee Conner (left), co-captain of the ACHS Raiders and two-time WINNER of a dinner at Maude's. Lineman of the Week is Dennis Wilkerson, also winning honors for the second time. Conner is praised for his efforts as middle linebacker for Raider defense. Coach Jerry Robinson says that he "tackled players all over the field" Friday night against Staunton River and is the kind of "hard-nosed player" that every coach wishes he had ten more of. His previous win as Lineman of the Week exemplifies the type of player he is, says the coach. That 21-6 score was partly due, says the coach, to Dennis Wilkerson's blocking which led to long yardage gains and the opening of large gaps in the Staunton-River line. Dennis is holding a Beta Club project - a Raider megaphone. Watch for them at Homecoming Nov. 5. In the meantime there's the Wm. Campbell game Friday night at Naruna! Rev up the motor and Go!!

Request Made For Social Security Nos

Voters coming to the polls for Tuesday's election for the office of Lieutenant Governor of Virginia, the office of State Senator for the 18th District and the office of the 27th Legislative District representative to the Va. House of Delegates plus county offices, will be given three ballots to mark.

Polls will be open from six a.m. to seven p.m.

Appearing on one ballot are the candidates for the State Senate Eighteenth Senatorial District; B. F. "Bert" Dodson, of Lynchburg and Howard P. Anderson, of Halifax.

For the House of Delegates, Twenty - Seventh Legislative District there is one candidate: incumbent Claude W. Anderson.

County offices to be filled on Tuesday include the office of Commonwealth's Attorney with incumbent Harry Gordon Lawson the only candidate.

There are two candidates for treasurer; incumbent John Garland Plunkett and Mrs. Ida Belle Campbell, deputy Commissioner of Revenue, seeking the office for the first time.

Incumbent Commissioner of the Revenue John Curtis Caldwell is unopposed. Also unopposed is James Eugene Richardson, sworn in as sheriff upon the retirement in July of Sheriff L. L. Stanley.

Each voter, if he has not already done so in a previous election, is asked to bring with him or her on a separate sheet of paper his social security number.

This is a Virginia statute, according to Murrell Ferguson, secretary of the Electoral Bord.

During last November's election there was considerable delay for some voters in the recording of Social Security numbers. Social Security numbers are NOT part of the election, but merely a prelude to a statewide computer system for the registration of voters.

A separate ballot will be issued listing nominees for the board of supervisors. There is no opposition in any of the supervisors' races. Also on this ballot, the nominees from Southside and Clover Hill District for Justices of the peace, both of these without opposition.

Nominees for supervisor, Southside District, John C. Cole of Appomattox. Cloverhill District, O. Hunter Tolley, of Pamplin. Stonewall District, Otho W. Martin, Jr. of Oakville, all are incumbents.

For Justice of the Peace, Southside District, Mrs. Geraldine R. Mitchell, incumbent.

'Get Your Community Ready' Says Chamber Of Commerce Speaker

Approximately 47 members and guests were present at the Parkway Friday night for the annual dinner meeting of the Appomattox County Chamber of Commerce.

Capt. W. W. Blythe, president presided.

The evening's speaker, Guy H. Kissinger, Jr., of Richmond, explained his work as deputy director of the Division of Industrial Development in the Governor's office, Richmond.

"Get your community ready before the prospect arrives," is the chief message by Kissinger and his staff.

Utilities, transportation, financing, availability of schools, all are important to a prospect, he added.

Kissinger also spoke of five emerging industries in the world today: learning aids, medical technology, nuclear energy, pollution control and oceanography.

Kissinger said, "Our Industrial Development team is always on the lookout and 'out there' looking for these five emerging industries", in order to invite them to Virginia.

Increasing population and increased desire to communicate rapidly with one another has called forth a lot of effort by communications industries, advertising agencies and others in the teaching aid fields, he said.

He spoke of the increasing need for electrial energy and that Va. is doubling its electrical output every seven years to meet this demand.

"Recycling" used cars, paper and other materials has caused an upsurge of growth in companies concerned with pollution control and profits to be gained by making use of formerly unused materials.

Kissinger also said that companies concerned with oceanography are on the increase, and that with 140 million square miles of water on this planet, there are resources and possibilities almost beyond imagination.

In a business session before Kissinger's address, a slate of nominees for the board of directions was presented by J. A. Smith.

Nominated and elected to a two-year term were R. E. McClenny, Jr., Rev. R. Q. Lawing, Ray Noble, Jim Nolen, Franklin Vaughan, E. C. Tutwiler and Mrs. Martin Webb.

Board members with another year to serve include T. DeWitt Evans, Eugene Carson, F. A.
